HUCHUY QOSQO TREK

1 Day

OVERVIEW

Huchuy Qosqo Trek Full Day

If you are looking for an exciting day trip from Cusco that takes you off the beaten path through beautiful Andean landscapes, small communities and a fascinating archaeological site, we recommend Huchuy Qosqo trek. You will be able to escape from the busy city and spend the day among nature and learn all about the beautiful surroundings and the Inca history.

You can book this trip with us any day of the week and enjoy some peace and quiet on this quiet route away from the city.

This hike offers a wonderful combination of natural beauty and contrasts in landscape, wildlife, and ancient cultures. It takes you through impressive high-altitude forests and grasslands covered with fresh straw, where herds of llamas and alpacas roam freely and graze all day. You will pass through small communities and see how the locals go about their daily rural life before descending into the archaeological park to explore.

The Huchuy Qosqo Trek takes you on an absolutely stunning route through the hills to the lesser known Inca site of Huchuy Qosqo. This park is located on a plateau with spectacular views of the Sacred Valley of the Incas and the snow-capped peaks of the Vilcabamba mountain range. Inside, you can explore and learn all about the ancient culture of the Incas.

Hike through the Andes and discover ancient secrets

Today our amazing adventure to Huchuy Qosqo full day, begins at 7:00 am. We will pick you up from your hotel in Cusco and then drive to the small town of Ccorao, which is about 30 minutes from Cusco, before turning off along a small road to the Andes and the small town of Patabamba at 3,850m / 12,631ft. ft. We will then continue to Lake Qoricocha (4,050 m / 13,287 ft), the starting point of our trek. Along the way, the Andean landscape is unmissable.

Once we arrive at the starting point, we will ascend for 45 minutes to the Apacheta Pass, the highest point of our day's trek (4,200 m / 13,780 ft). From here the rest of the walk is downhill for another 2 hours so not too hard on the legs.

On our route, we will first arrive at the ancient community of Pukamarca, where we will have a short break and then continue our way through beautiful green valleys and the impressive Puma Punku ("La Puerta del Puma") canyon. From here, you will walk an original section of the Inca Trail, which has been restored as part of the Qhapaq Ñan project. The Inca Trail is one of the most recognized routes in the entire world, so this is an exciting addition to your trek.

This trail will take you to the isolated and mysterious Inca site of Huchuy Qosqo ("little Cusco") which sits above the Sacred Valley of the Incas at 3,600m/11,811ft. When you arrive, your guide will lead you through the archaeological park and show you all the impressive Inca buildings on the site, such as sacred temples, storehouses, Inca terraces for agriculture, and the Inca reservoir used to store water during the dry season. It is a very interesting place to visit, and you will learn a lot about the Incas.

After your guided tour, we will enjoy our delicious box lunch, and after a short break, we must begin our 40-minute descent to the town of Lamay (2,941 m / 9,649 ft) which is next to the Urubamba River in the Sacred Valley. Of the Incas. From there, we will take you in our private transport to your accommodation in Cusco.
